S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS DISCUSS DRUG REPORT AT SPECIAL MEETING MONDAY

The board of directors of S. A. D. 44 held a special meeting at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week to discuss a report on drugs prepared by Andover director Eddie Snyder.

Mr. Snyder reviewed quite completely the report on "drugs" that he had submitted to the directors at their regular meeting on June 15. His discussion was an elaboration on the types of drugs in use, the uses made of such drugs, and the sources of these drugs. Reference was made to the many problems involved in any such kind of problem—lack of an informed public, lack of adequate law enforcement officials, lack of teachers educated in the various phases of the "drug" problem and lack of adequate legislation.

Bethel director Dale Thurston indicated that he felt that the main concern of school officials should be not with those who are already "on" or using drugs, but rather with those that are not using drugs and to discourage any use of drugs.

Mr. Snyder went on to emphasize the fact that he felt that any kind of drug program must have the high regard of the students, otherwise, it would not be effective. Keith Cunningham, principal of Telstar, discussed very briefly some ideas that he had regarding a drug program for grades 7 through 12. At this time no program has been formalized.

Milton Mills, of Woodstock, moved and Leon Abers, of Andover, seconded that the administrators take a close, hard look at the needs of District 44 in terms of health hazard education and determine a course of action at the earliest possible date. It was recommended that the administration present at least a general outline of the type of programs for kindergarten through grade 12 by Sept. 1, 1970; further, that a program be established for all grade levels, and that this program be presented to the Board as soon as it is formulated.

It was further recommended that a teachers' workshop be established for the express purpose of instruction in this program, using whatever means are available to the district as instructional material. It was recommended to the Board that special funds be set aside in the coming year's budget, expressly to be used in a health hazard program, and that it receive high priority. As a final recommendation, it was suggested that a formal letter be written, and signed by each Board member, to the State Department of Education requesting support in a health hazard education program, and that they further establish minimum guidelines for such a program.

Richard Melville of Greenwood, board chairman, appointed Mr. Snyder and Clarence Remington of Bethel, to act as a committee to work with the administrators in establishing a health hazard program for S. A. D. 44.

The board expressed its appreciation to Mr. Snyder for the excellent report he had prepared.

Board members not present at the special meeting were William Cousins, Mrs. Joan Wiese and John K. Brown, all of Bethel.

Report of June 15 regular meeting of S. A. D. 44 board appears on Page Five.

Pastor David Shaw is on vacation for a month.

West Berlin will benefit from the 15th Sabbath overflow mission offering on June 27. The young people in this city are showing concern for the elderly and families with many children, and are doing something about it.

The proportion of old to young people in West Berlin is two to one. Consequently there is a high percentage of people there who need help but do not have the income to provide it for themselves.

To relieve the suffering of some of these elderly persons, S. D. A. young people are carrying coal from the cellar to a sixth floor flat, or clearing windows, or reading to those who have poor sight, or delivering hot meals to unfortunate. Seventh-day Adventists have 15 churches in West Berlin, with a membership of 2,700. The offering on June 27 will help these churches in renovating the Wolfshof Hospital, which serves 10,000 yearly. Committal services were held at the Irish Neighborhood Cemetery.

The kind Lord requires of his children to keep His commandments and His statutes. In these our friend and neighbor Bernard was not lacking.

His was a simple life of hard work and contentment in the out of doors. Born and a life resident on the sunny slopes of Mt. Abram, descended from the Irish immigrants who pioneered and made here snug homes and fertile farms he was proud and happy in the old homestead.

His capable hands earned a living for his fine family, he was satisfied with the blessings of the country and every man was his friend.

A keen sense of humor, an excellent memory and the bit of a brogue with which he embellished his storytelling, added to his wide popularity. He loved all children and they loved him.

His devotion to his loyal family was exemplary. Many hearts are saddened at his loss and his memory will live.

He is buried in the Irish Neighborhood Cemetery where rests the bones of his friends and kindred and here the gentle winds and the song of birds make daily litany.

His sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. David Greig Todd, Cheshire, Conn.; Shirley Melaper, Georgetown, Mass.; and Mrs. Leon Strout, Mexico.

The board of directors of S. A. D. 44 held a special meeting at Telstar Regional High School on Monday evening of this week to discuss a report on drugs prepared by Andover director Eddie Snyder.

Mr. Snyder reviewed quite completely the report on "drugs" that he had submitted to the directors at their regular meeting on June 15. His discussion was an elaboration on the types of drugs in use, the uses made of such drugs, and the sources of these drugs. Reference was made to the many problems involved in any such kind of problem—lack of an informed public, lack of adequate law enforcement officials, lack of teachers educated in the various phases of the "drug" problem and lack of adequate legislation.

Bethel director Dale Thurston indicated that he felt that the main concern of school officials should be not with those who are already "on" or using drugs, but rather with those that are not using drugs and to discourage any use of drugs.

Mr. Snyder went on to emphasize the fact that he felt that any kind of drug program must have the high regard of the students. Otherwise, it would not be effective.

Keith Cunningham, principal of Telstar, discussed very briefly some ideas that he had regarding a drug program for grades 7 through 12. At this time no program has been formalized.

Milton Mills, of Woodstock, moved and Leon Akers, of Andover, seconded that the administrators take a close, hard look at the needs of District 44 in terms of health hazard education and determine a course of action at the earliest possible date. It was recommended that the administration present at least a general outline of the type of programs for kindergarten through grade 12 by Sept. 1, 1970; further, that a program be established for all grade levels, and that this program be presented to the Board as soon as it is formulated.

It was further recommended that a teachers' workshop be established for the express purpose of instruction in this program, using whatever means are available to the district as instructional material. It was recommended to the Board that special funds be set aside in the coming year's budget, expressly to be used in a health hazard program, and that it receive high priority. As a final recommendation, it was suggested that a formal letter be written, and signed by each Board member, to the State Department of Education requesting support in a health hazard education program, and that they further establish minimum guidelines for such a program.

Richard Melville of Greenwood, board chairman, appointed Mr. Snyder and Clarence Remington of Bethel, to act as a committee to work with the administrators in establishing a health hazard program for S. A. D. 44.

The board expressed its appreciation to Mr. Snyder for the excellent report he had prepared.

Board members not present at the special meeting were William Cousins, Mrs. Joan Wiese and John K. Brown, all of Bethel.

Christian Science

Instructions given by Jesus to his twelve disciples and to seventy other followers, who were sent out to heal and cure mankind, are included in the Lesson Service to be read in all Christian Science Churches this Sunday.
The Lesson Service subject is "Christian Science," which is explained to passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. One of the passages states:
"Now, as then, signs and wonders are wrought in the metaphysical healing of physical disease. But these signs are only to demonstrate the divine origin to attest the reality of the higher mission of the Christ."

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED TO BETHEL TEACHER

Service Foresters of the Management Division, Maine Forestry Department, recently awarded three full tuition Maine teacher scholarships to the Conservation Education Workshop course at Bryant Pond according to W. Robert Dinneen, Division Supervisor.

Recipients of the scholarships included C. Foster Fitzpatrick of Milbrook, Paul H. Whitney of Newport, and Mrs. Maxine Brown of Bethel. The three winners also won a year's subscription to the "American Forester" Magazine.

The Foresters are making the awards to help promote a better understanding of forest conservation by educators at a time when understanding man's environment and methods to improve it are among the most important issues of the present generation. Forest conservation plays a large part in Maine's economy as the most important Maine industries, the forest industries and recreation, depend on the State's 17,000,000 acres of forest land for survival. Man's healthy environment in Maine is tied directly to the forest (Maine is 87% forest) and it is important that modern educators be

This was a good turnout for such an early ride. Thirty-two horses were on hand for the three-day affiliated ride held Memorial week end at the Norway fairgrounds. On May 31, Norman Dannon sponsored a ride in Buckfield. This ride drew a crowd of 18. There were also 18 attending the ride, in New Gloucester, sponsored by Jeri Waterhouse and Hazel Lufeld.

The club didn't put on a ride on June 21 since many of its members attended the Litchfield Spring Safari.

On June 28 Joan and Herbert Olson are sponsoring a club ride to be held at Johnson Hill in Poland. This, like most of the club rides, will begin at 10:00 a. m. A good turnout is expected.

On July 5 we are sponsoring our annual horse show. This year it will be held at the Norway fairgrounds. All indications are that this will

SUMMER ARTS FESTIVAL AT U. OF M.'S ORONO CAMPUS DURING JULY AND AUGUST

Some famous names in the music, entertainment and news fields, a group of international films and eight art exhibits make up the Summer Arts Festival season at the University of Maine at Orono during July and August.

Arranged especially for Summer Session students, the festival is also open without charge to the general public.

Two special morning convocations have been scheduled with New York Times Washington correspondent Tom Wicker and U. M. Chancellor Donald R. McNeil as the speakers. Wicker, who will speak in the Memorial Gymnasium Monday, July 13, at 9 a. m., is the author of the widely syndicated tri-weekly column, "In the Nation." Wicker joined the Washington Bureau of the Times in 1962 and since then has covered Congress, the White House, and national politics and is familiar to television viewers as a frequent guest on nationally broadcast forums.

McNeil, the first chancellor of the UM system of higher education, will speak Tuesday, July 28, at 10 a. m. in the gymnasium. Before coming to the university early in 1969, McNeil was chancellor of University Extension at the University of Wisconsin.

A noted character actor of the stage and screen, John Carradine, will appear in the Hauck Auditorium Thursday, July 23, at 8:15 p. m. in "An Evening with John Carradine." Although he is best known as a Shakespearean actor, Carradine has appeared in more than 300 films, including "Stage Coach," "Around the World in 80 Days," and "The Ten Commandments."

Some of the nationally known teachers who will be on campus for the university's Summer Chamber Music School will appear in four evening concerts in the Hauck Auditorium on successive Tuesday evenings beginning July 14. A fifth concert will be given by student musicians attending the school.

The festival within a festival, the international film series, will begin Thursday, July 8, at 8 p. m. with the other five performances on Monday evenings, in July and August. The opening film is "Boccaccio '70" which features three short stories directed by Federico Fellini, Vittorio DeSica, and Luchino Visconti, starring Sophia Loren, Romy Schneider and Anita Ekberg.

Other films include "Death of the Ape Man," "Citizen Kane," "Les Biches," "The Nazarin," "The Immortal Story," "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," and "Memorandum." A number of prize-winning short subjects will also be shown.

Art exhibitions include Landscape in Maine. Artists of Maine, prints by Edward Landon, and photographs by Jamie Hyne, all in Carnegie Hall; Harry and Ilana Greaves in the Lobby of Hauck Auditorium; Homes for Better Living Awards in the Memorial Union lobby; contemporary watercolors by Maine artists in Alumni Hall lobby; and National and School Photo Awards in the Fogler Library.

ANONYMOUS LETTER GIVES ONE SOLDIER'S VIEWS

The Citizen has received the following letter that an area soldier sent to his mother from Viet Nam. The mother thought the contents of the letter would be of interest to people in this area. Since receiving the letter this past spring, the mother has been notified by the government that her son had lost a leg in action and was recovering at a hospital in Japan. It is the wish of those concerned that no names be published.

Dear Mom,
Why don't some people in the world, open their eyes? They that are running the teenagers down because of a handful of foolish ones in the crowd? Why don't they look to the thousands of teenagers who are GIs and fighting this damn war? To all the teenagers who have died and are dying for America and for those who believe in Freedom? Why don't they get off the teenagers backs because teenagers are going to be the ones who will be running our America some day? This will be someday soon as young people 21 to 30 years old will be running the whole world! Times are changing and the people must change with it. Young people will have new ways of doing things. So why don't the older folks start thinking about things like that and get off the teenagers backs?

Teenagers will grow up sometime and it just takes some longer than it does others. If the teenagers didn't believe in freedom and the American way do you think there would be an Army, Air Force, and a Navy? No, because all of the teenagers would go to jail before they would fight. Then who would be left to fight for America's way of freedom? Men over 35 years of age wouldn't be able to fight or stand when we are going through over here in Viet Nam. It is too hot, and it is a different war that we are fighting than has ever been fought before. Here it is like fighting the Indians in some ways, because you have to be ready at all times. You don't see or hear them until they hit. They hit and run, V. C. and N. V. A. sometimes fighting like this for hours and hours.

Each and every time you're in a fire, fighting, you have something new. They don't do the same thing twice and we do. We have a lot to do with, and the V. C. and N. V. A. don't have one third or one half the things to do with that we do. If they did it would be another world war. It is HELL over here now, so you just stop and think if the V. C. and N. V. A. had what we had you know it would be a world war. People just don't know what a GI goes through over here. Maybe it is best that they don't.

People say we shouldn't be over here at all. How in Hell would they know they aren't over here and see the things that are going on and they don't know what it is all about. They just think that they know. Sometimes a guy gets sick over here just thinking about it. Mom, I wish that people would start to think of peace and not war. That is what the teenagers and the old folks differ, the older folks, some of them think on the lines of war. The teenagers think on the lines of peace. What makes the older people run down the teenagers. We teenagers do not want to have war. We do just makes me mad to see the old folks running us down, when so many of us are fighting and dying in this damn war over here.

Mom, when will things be different between the older folks and the young people in America?

Well, I have talked long enough so say ill to all the folks back home for me.

Love,
Your Son

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

The sky was leaden with gray ghosts of clouds scudding above the waves of the pond when "Boat" and I set out for an afternoon of fishing.

Peeping above the water now are the green isles of lily pads while around them and above them the air was aquiver with streaks of rainbow light made by the flight of the dragon flies.

Rushes and long plumed grasses were at times mirrored in the water where the blue heron stood graceful and silent. It reminded me of these beautiful lines so recently given me and written by Gwen Frostic.

"A great majestic heron stands, waiting soon A little green frog will become part of a bird that will fly to great heights in the sky—yet there will always be little green frogs to trill in the ponds of spring.

In the background the mountains stood tall and dark.

We first visited the kingbirds nest up Sanborn river. All was well.

After fastening "Boat" I stopped by at Redwings' nest to take a picture. He called me several names but his family was out so he wasn't too excited.

Jack-in-the-Pudding looked up from the grass. These quaint little preachers ensconced in their delicate pulpits are well known to all who love the woods. An old legend claims that these were received at the Crucifixion.

"Beneath the cross it grew:
And in the vase-like hollow of the leaf,

Catching from that dread shower of agony
A few mysterious drops, transmitted thus

Unto the groves and hills their healing stains.
A heritage, for storm or vernal shower
Never to blow away."

There were several hidden away in the tall grasses so I took one up and replanted it beside my little brook at home.

Returning to the pond area I caught two pickerel and visited the far shore near the swamp. Here, looking at me were two eyes extending up and up while beneath, a mouth with corners turning down and down—the biggest frog I had ever seen! He grumbled but was very curious. I captured him in my net and put him in the boat for I was interested in his size and wanted his picture. He posed, I snapped, then he leaped back to join others that had gathered around him. Do you suppose they planned to capture me?

Glancing at my watch I could hardly believe four hours had vanished so quickly.

I called it a fishing trip but I caught only two. However I had watched some bullfrogs leap and play beneath a cloudy sky, and I watched a kingbird go to his nest up high. I smelled the incense of evergreen. I listened to a waterfall. I enjoyed Nature's changing scenes.

As I rowed between green banked walls, I watched the birds and they sang to me. The ducks quacked as they came in and I was there to see. The fishing part, to be honest, I nearly forgot. There were two fish, a few nibbles, so would you say I had had luck or not?

Mr. and Mrs. Leona Holt and family and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Chase, West Paris, were together for supper and the evening, Saturday. The occasion was Mrs. Chase's birthday and the Holt's anniversary.

Mrs. Chase, aunt Nellie, spoke of the fact that this year her birthday was on the same day she was born and recalled that her mother told her she was born among the roses on Young Hill. She received a cake, cards and gifts.

The Hols received a cake, cards, gifts among which was a beautiful bouquet from their son, Robert and wife in Bangor and roses red and beautiful for Fay from her husband.

I'll report what little I have learned about an early Sunday morning auto accident at the Artist bridge. A car with a couple of young people was going down river and failed to negotiate a turn at the north end of the new bridge by the old covered bridge. It went through the railing, breaking parts and guardrail, landing bottom up in the water. The couple walked away from the scene. A wrecker from Rumford removed the auto from the water Sunday.
